The Summer Intensive

July 15–31, 2015

Our program prepares international students for personal, professional, and academic success in the U.S. and at Carey.

Students will:

- Build social and cultural knowledge to effectively navigate life in the U.S. and at Carey
- Gain knowledge, improve skills, competence, and confidence in spoken and written business communication
- Understand the American classroom and how to succeed in it
- Acquire valuable career advice
- Practice personal and academic skills to be successful
- Build self and community awareness
- Minimize stress and anxiety associated with the experience of studying abroad

Program details

International students beginning programs in fall 2015 are required to attend.*

This concentrated course focuses on helping participants successfully transition into the American classroom and culture. Group work and discussions focused around business concepts will help students prepare for the academic, professional, and social demands of being a student at Johns Hopkins University. Work in the classroom culminates in a student presentation and submission of an academic paper that adheres to APA guidelines. Co-curricular activities, which may include city sightseeing, a baseball game, and bowling, allow students to meet new friends and have fun.

The program runs concurrently in Baltimore and Washington, D.C. After completing the Summer Intensive, students join their classmates for program-specific orientations.
