Curriculum

Required courses (12 credits)

- » Accounting for Decision Making
- » Statistical Analysis
- » Marketing Management
- » Managing in a Diverse and Global World
- » Business and Leadership Communication
- » Leadership Theory into Practice

All 12 earned LDP credits can be transferred into the part-time Carey Flexible MBA program. Please ask Admissions about transferring your credits into a Carey Master of Science program.

Note: Online courses are synchronous and conducted on weekday evenings and weekend mornings. Full cohort participation is expected.

Residencies

In addition to the online coursework, LDP holds two in-person residencies per year at both our Baltimore and Washington, D.C. locations. You will have the opportunity to connect and engage with your peers and culturally diverse leaders in the business, government, and nonprofit sectors. Learning modules and activities will include grounding, practicum, growth, and reflection. Network and capacity building will be featured along with other opportunities for career growth and development.

Fall 2022 admissions data

“[LDP was a] real turning point, an awakening of my aspirations and the feeling that I could, if I applied myself, rise to a senior management position.”

— Tony Wells
Chief Brand Officer, USAA;
Leadership Development Program '97

“Being in senior leadership roles, it is important to know your voice and not to shrink back or be intimidated when others don't agree. LDP prepared me to have tough conversations. It has given me that confidence to know my voice has value.”

— Claudia Bellony Atanga
Leadership Development Program '10, MBA '11
