RESEARCH GRANT PARTICIPATION

Title: Comorbid Conditions in Cancer Survivors: Costs and Quality of Care

Dates: 7/1/10-6/30/13

Sponsoring Agency: National Cancer Institute

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: To estimate levels of quality of care for breast, prostate, and colorectal cancer survivors using SEER-Medicare data, to compare levels between these survivors and a matched sample of Medicare participants with no cancer diagnosis, and to estimate the association between physician specialty and quality of care and cost and quality of care.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead the project with a particular focus on methods and cost analyses.

Title: Pediatric National Vision Preservation Initiative

Dates: 9/30/08-9/29/11

Sponsoring Agency: National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (CDC)

Principal Investigator: Jeff Todd (Prevent Blindness America)

Grant Objective: To develop an integrative approach to eye health promotion and vision loss prevention.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead, plan, and write up a cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Pediatric Asthma Alert Intervention in Minority Children

Dates: 9/1/08-6/30/12

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Nursing Research

Principal Investigator: Arlene Butz, PhD

Grant Objective: Young inner-city children with asthma have the highest emergency department (ED) visit rates. Relying on the emergency department for asthma care can be a dangerous sign of poorly controlled asthma. This research will focus on whether having a specialized asthma nurse join the family at a child's doctor visit after an ED visit for asthma to make sure the child and parent keep the follow-up appointment and have the nurse remind the child's doctor to prescribe preventive asthma medicines and an asthma action plan for home will result in young children with asthma having fewer days with wheezing and cough.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead, plan, and write up a cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Evaluation of Economic Outcomes

Dates: 9/8/08-10/8/09

Sponsoring Agency: Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: To develop a framework for deciding when economic outcomes would provide policy-relevant information when included in systematic reviews of clinical outcomes. To review systems that have been used to evaluate best practices for conducting economic evaluations in health care. Aim 3. To review studies addressing the issues of using economic outcomes in policy and decision making. Aim 4. To define trade-offs between incorporating previously completed, "off-the-shelf" evaluations from the published or grey literature into systematic reviews, vs. performing an explicit independent economic evaluation as part of a systematic review.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To direct all activities of the proposal, to particularly lead the aim to develop a framework, to lead the write up of results, and to respond to the funder.

Title: How Does Treatment Choice Affect Care and Costs for Prostate Cancer Survivors?

Dates: 9/1/08-8/31/09

Sponsoring Agency: The Ho Ching Yang Memorial Faculty Fellowship Award in Cancer Prevention, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: The specific aims of this proposal are to assess the short-term and long-term patterns of care and patterns of costs associated with the various treatment options for localized prostate cancer..

Primary Individual Responsibility: To plan all analyses, write up results, and report back to the funder.

Title: Conceptual Development and Analysis of an Economic Evaluation of Language Services for Patients with Limited English Proficiency

Dates: 2/1/08-11/30/08

Sponsoring Agency: Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: To develop a conceptual model for an economic evaluation of providing language services for patients with limited English.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead all tasks, develop the conceptual model, write up results, and report back to the foundation.

Title: Low Vision Devices and Rehabilitation Services

Dates: 1/1/08-12/13/09

Sponsoring Agency: National Eye Institute

Principal Investigator: Robert Massof, PhD.

Grant Objective: To plan and write a detailed Manual of Operations and Procedures for a 3x2 stratified design, multicenter, randomized controlled trial that measures patient-centered low vision rehabilitation outcomes; measures cost-effectiveness, cost-utilities, and demand elasticity of services and devices; and measures changes in plans of care with changes in cost coverage policies.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To be actively involved in the process of considering how utilization will respond to price changes and the cost-effectiveness of the policy change.

Title: Experience Corps Cost-Effectiveness and Cost Analysis Project

Dates: 7/1/07-6/30/10

Sponsoring Agency: The John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: To perform a cost-benefit analysis of the Experience Corps Baltimore intervention.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To plan and direct the analysis..

Title: Rural Hospital Quality Collaborative on Evidence-Based Nursing

Dates: 9/1/07-8/31/08

Sponsoring Agency: Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Principal Investigator: Robin Newhouse, PhD

Grant Objective: Recent estimates indicate that people with chronic conditions receive 55% of the recommended care with only 68% of patients with heart disease receiving the appropriate treatment. This interdisciplinary research team will evaluate the effects of a rural hospital collaborative established to facilitate translation of evidence on heart failure (HF) patient care. Specifically, the team will examine nursing characteristics that are associated with improvements in HF patient care.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To plan and conduct cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Nursing-Pharmacy Collaboration on Medication Reconciliation: A Novel Approach to Information Management

Dates: 9/1/07-8/31/08

Sponsoring Agency: Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Principal Investigator: Linda Costa, PhD

Grant Objective: Deficits in communication across the continuum of care in regards to medication use can place patients at serious risk for harm. This interdisciplinary team will examine how to economically support direct care providers in medication reconciliation in order to facilitate safe transition to and from hospital and community. The team proposes to evaluate the effectiveness of a nurse-pharmacist clinical information coordination team in improving drug information management on admission and discharge, quantify potential harm due to reconciliation failures, and determine cost-benefit related to averted harm.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To plan and conduct cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Randomized Trial of Achieving Healthy Lifestyles in Psych Rehabilitation

Dates: 3/1/08-11/30/12

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Mental Health

Principal Investigator: Gail Daumit, M.D.

Grant Objective: To perform a randomized trial in 10 psychiatric rehabilitation centers to test a practical weight-loss intervention with nutrition counseling and exercise classes that is proven in the general population and tailored to persons with severe mental illness. If successful, the intervention will be a model program that could be disseminated widely and should provide important health benefits by decreasing heart disease risk in this vulnerable population.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To plan and conduct a cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Guided Care: Integrating High Tech and High Touch

Dates: 7/1/05-6/30/10

Sponsoring Agency: Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality

Principal Investigator: Chad Boulton, MD

Grant Objective: To assess an intervention using nurses to guide care for individuals with multiple comorbidities.

Primary Individual Responsibility: Plan for and conduct cost and cost-effectiveness analyses.

Title: United States National Cost of Illness Estimate for Moderate to Severe Visual Acuity Impairment

Dates: 1/1/05-12/31/06

Sponsoring Agency: Prevent Blindness America

Principal Investigator: Kevin Frick, PhD

Grant Objective: To estimate the cost of excess medical care due to vision impairment and blindness in the United States.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To direct and plan all analyses and be responsible for writing papers.

Title: Multicenter Uveitis Steroid Treatment (MUST) Trial

Dates: 7/15/04-4/30/09

Sponsoring Agency: National Eye Institute

Principal Investigator: Douglas Jabs, M.D.

Grant Objective: To conduct a multicenter, randomized, controlled clinical trial, which will compare the fluocinolone acetonide implant to "standard therapy" for the treatment of patients with severe, vision-threatening intermediate, posterior, or panuveitis.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To conduct a cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Value in Health

Dates: 3/1/2004-2/28/2006

Sponsoring Agency: Pfizer

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To define how value influences health care policy making in general and prepare empirical and conceptually specific examples.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead the study.

Title: Direct and Indirect Costs of Low Vision and its Treatment at a Low Vision Care Center

Dates: 9/1/2003-11/30/2004

Sponsoring Agency: Alcon Laboratories

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the direct and indirect costs of low vision for new patients at the Johns Hopkins Lions Low Vision Center.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To lead the study.

Title: Vision Disabilities in Low Vision

Dates: 8/1/2003-7/31/2008

Sponsoring Agency: National Eye Institute

Principal Investigator: Robert W. Massof, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To continue the development of a measure of disability and outcomes for low vision patients and to assess patients' willingness to pay for improvements in their functional capacity.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To develop the willingness to pay questions and analysis.

Title: Support for Low Income Breastfeeding: Cost and Outcomes

Dates: 3/1/2003-2/28/2007

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Nursing Research

Principal Investigator: Linda C. Pugh, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the costs and outcomes associated with providing peer and community health nurse support for breastfeeding among low income women.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design the cost-benefit analysis.

Title: Promotion of pit latrines to control fly breeding sites as well as a study of determinants of a family decision to participate in a pit latrine project

Dates: 12/2001-6/2003

Sponsoring Agency: International Trachoma Initiative

Principal Investigator: Sheila K. West, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the effectiveness and net benefit of pit latrine promotion as a part of a trachoma control program.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design an assessment of the willingness to pay for pit latrines.

Title: Cost effectiveness of three alternative azithromycin treatment strategies for trachoma control in Tanzania

Dates: 12/2001-8/2003

Sponsoring Agency: International Trachoma Initiative

Principal Investigator: Sheila K. West, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the cost effectiveness of three alternative azithromycin treatment strategies for trachoma control in Tanzania.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design the cost-effectiveness analysis.

Title: Pain Measurement in Temporomandibular Joint Disorders

Dates: 9/15/01-8/31/06

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Dental & Craniofacial Research

Principal Investigator: Jennifer Haythornthwaite, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To compare multiple treatments for temporomandibular joint disorders. These treatments include psychological and pharmaceutical interventions separately and in combination.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To conceptualize the cost-effectiveness analysis of treatment strategies.

Title: The Economics of Blindness and Deafness

Dates: 9/1/01-8/31/02

Sponsoring Agency: Prevention of Blindness and Deafness Unit, World Health Organization

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To review the existing literature on the direct and indirect costs of blindness and deafness. To develop and field test a new instrument in the United States and a developing country.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To conceptualize the literature search, develop the instrument, and perform the analysis of the data.

Title: Cost-Effectiveness of Trichiasis Surgery in Tanzania

Dates: 8/1/01-3/30/04

Sponsoring Agency: International Trachoma Initiative

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To compare the multiple methods of implementing trichiasis surgery in central Tanzania on the basis of cost, coverage, and effectiveness. Further, to continue collaborating with colleagues in Tanzania working on other projects and with colleagues working in Vietnam.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design the study of trichiasis surgery in Tanzania, and to continue to facilitate the economic analyses in Vietnam and the analysis of the antibiotic intervention in Tanzania.

Title: Impact of Preemptive Analgesia on Recovery From Surgery

Dates: 9/30/00-8/31/01

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Neurological Disorders and Stroke

Principal Investigator: Allan Gottschalk, M.D., Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To conduct a clinical trial to quantify the role played by aggressive perioperative pain management, to link reductions in perioperative pain and outcome, and to quantify the impact of recovery from prostate surgery.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To conceptualize the cost-effectiveness analysis of perioperative pain management.

Title: The Political Economy of the Experience Corps

Dates: 5/15/00-5/15/01

Sponsoring Agency: The Borchard Foundation Center on Law and Aging

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To review (1) principals of valuing volunteer time and (2) prior cost-benefit studies of programs involving multiple agencies. To perform a cost-benefit analysis of the pilot Experience Corps program in which older individuals volunteer in schools.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To conceptualize the literature search and review and to perform the cost-benefit analysis.

Title: National Demonstration and Evaluation of the Johns Hopkins Home Hospital Model: Training, Coordination, and Technical Assistance

Dates: 5/1/00-4/30/03

Sponsoring Agency: John A. Hartford Foundation

Principal Investigator: Johns R. Burton, M.D.

Grant Objective: To conduct a national multisite demonstration and evaluation of the Johns Hopkins Home Hospital care model. The evaluation will test the feasibility and effectiveness of home hospital care in the managed care and integrated health care system environments.

Primary Individual Responsibility: Develop plan for and oversee cost data collection and analysis.

Title: Cost-Effectiveness: Modeling and Evaluation of Programs in Vietnam and Mali

Dates: 12/1/99-11/30/00

Sponsoring Agency: International Trachoma Initiative

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To develop a model of the stages of trachoma that can be used with decision analytic software to project the long-run cost-effectiveness of trachoma control programs and to develop and conduct cost-effectiveness evaluations of trachoma control programs in Vietnam and Mali.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To provide the economic insight into the modeling exercise and to perform analyses with data provided by colleagues in Vietnam and Mali.

Title: Cost-Effectiveness of and Long-Term Outcomes Following Acupuncture Treatment for Osteoarthritis of the Knee

Dates: 10/1/99-9/30/04

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute of Arthritis and Musculoskeletal and Skin Diseases

Principal Investigator: Marc Hochberg, M.D.

Grant Objective: To conduct a clinical trial comparing acupuncture, sham acupuncture, and group education and self-training for patients with osteoarthritis of the knee.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design and conduct the cost-effectiveness analysis accompanying the clinical trial.

Title: Socioeconomic Correlates of Prostate Cancer Among Minority Populations

Dates: 10/1/99-9/30/01

Sponsoring Agency: Centers for Disease Control

Principal Investigator: Thomas A. LaVeist, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To identify socioeconomic and sociologic factors that predict racial disparities in prostate cancer disease burden, quality of life, and survival, and to develop interventions to reduce such disparities.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To assist with questionnaire development, to review measures of socioeconomic status, and to assist with the analysis.

Title: Evaluation of Tanzanian National Program for Trachoma Control

Dates: 10/1/99-9/30/00

Sponsoring Agency: International Trachoma Initiative

Principal Investigator: Sheila K. West, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the efforts to control trachoma using the SAFE strategy in Tanzania.

Primary Individual Responsibility: To design and conduct the cost-effectiveness analysis of the trachoma control efforts.

Title: Longitudinal Income Imputation and Flu Shot Utilization in the WHAS Population

Dates: 7/1/99-12/31/99

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute on Aging (Purchase Order #263-HD-913216)

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To impute missing income data for rounds 2-7 of the Women's Health and Aging Study and to use these data in an analysis of flu shot utilization over time.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Oversee the income imputation process and analysis of flu shot utilization over time. Write up results for publication and for a final report to the NIA.

Title: Interventions for Visual Loss in Nursing Home Residents

Dates: 5/1/99-4/30/03

Sponsoring Agency: National Institute on Aging

Principal Investigator: Sheila K. West, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the change in utilization of visual care services, the costs of nursing home care, and quality of life associated with interventions to increase access to visual care services for nursing home residents.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Design and conduct the cost-effectiveness evaluation.

Title: Nurse Intervention for Low Income Breastfeeding Women

Dates: 10/1/98-9/30/00

Sponsoring Agency: NINR

Principal Investigator: Linda Pugh, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the effectiveness of a peer counseling intervention to increase the duration of breastfeeding among low income women who have chosen to breastfeed.

Principal Individual Responsibility: To direct the aspects of the project related to cost-benefit and cost-effectiveness analysis. This includes model development and oversight of the tasks to collect data on the costs of the intervention for the women.

Title: Cost-Effectiveness Analysis of Trachoma Prevention in Nepal

Dates: 10/1/98 - 9/30/99

Sponsoring Agency: Edna McConnell Clark Foundation/Helen Keller International

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To determine the effectiveness of varying methods of distributing azithromycin for the treatment of trachoma in Nepal. To develop a discrete multivariate sensitivity analysis tool for use with Microsoft Excel.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Lead cost-effectiveness analysis supplement to primary project led by Tom Lietman at UCSF.

Title: Studies of the Ocular Complications of AIDS (SOCA)

Dates: 8/1/98-7/31/03

Sponsoring Agency: National Eye Institute

Principal Investigator: Curtis L. Meinert, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess the relative effectiveness of alternative treatments for CMV retinitis.

Principal Individual Responsibility: To direct the cost-effectiveness analysis focusing on medical costs and using the EuroQol as the health-related quality of life measurement instrument.

Title: Survey of Family Health Expenditures

Dates: 7/1/98-3/1/99

Sponsoring Agency: Kaiser Family Foundation

Principal Investigator: Judy Kasper, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To assess how the access to and utilization of health care is impacted by the type of insurance families have.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Lead data imputation process. Lead analysis of employment based insurance including cross-sectional trends and longitudinal analyses.

Title: A Cost-Benefit Analysis of the Healthy Start Program

Dates: 11/1/97-10/31/98

Sponsoring Agency: Baltimore City Healthy Start Program

Principal Investigator: Kevin D. Frick, Ph.D.

Grant Objective: To perform a cost-benefit analysis of the Baltimore City Healthy Start program. The costs will be assigned based on budgetary figures. The benefit measures will focus on health outcomes (e.g. prevention of pre-term delivery and low birth weight), special education needs reduction, child abuse reduction, and parental employment.

Principal Individual Responsibility: To plan and perform analyses; to oversee a research assistant's preparation of an annotated bibliography; to work with other evaluation team members to determine the health effects to which dollar figures will be assigned.

Title: The Impact of Point of Service and Other Managed Care Models on Generalist and Specialist Utilization

Dates: 11/1/96-11/1/98 (Continued through 11/1/99)

Sponsoring Agency: Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Principal Investigator: Jonathon Weiner, Dr. P.H.

Grant Objective: Compare and contrast the mix of services provided to consumers enrolled in alternative types of managed care plans.

Principal Individual Responsibilities: To provide economic insight for analyses.

Title: Enhancing the Delivery of Clinical Preventive Services in Managed Care

Dates: 11/96-5/98

Sponsoring Agency: Centers for Disease Control

Principal Investigator: Robert Lawrence, M.D.

Grant Objective: Develop and evaluate strategies to increase the use of preventive services within clinical care delivery by managed care organizations.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Synthesis of research on economic incentives given to medical care practices and managed care organizations to deliver preventive care services.

Title: Primary Care Policy Center for the Poor and Underserved

Dates: 10/96-5/99, 12/2002-12/2003

Sponsoring Agency: Health Resources and Services Administration, Bureau of Primary Care

Principal Investigator: Barbara Starfield, M.D., M.P.H.

Grant Objective: Expand knowledge and understanding of primary care for underserved individuals, particularly as provided by Community Health Centers.

Principal Individual Responsibility: Provide economic insight as needed, particularly with regard to cost-effectiveness and financing mechanisms.

Title: Surgical Treatments Outcomes Project for Dysfunctional Uterine Bleeding

Dates: 9/30/96-9/29/01

Sponsoring Agency: Agency for Health Care Policy Research

Principal Investigator: Kay Dickersin, Ph.D., Department of Epidemiology and Preventive Medicine, University of Maryland, School of Medicine

Grant Objective: Compare the effectiveness of hysterectomy with endometrial ablation in patients with dysfunctional uterine bleeding in whom medical treatment has not been successful.

Principal Individual Responsibilities: Develop and perform cost-effectiveness analyses comparing treatments.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Personal Statement of Research Objectives

- (1) To perform high quality cost-benefit and cost-effectiveness analyses for a variety of treatments and interventions, staying up to date on the latest techniques and relating the evaluations to the business case for the new interventions;
- (2) To focus my research on topics related to ophthalmology, otolaryngology, nursing, productivity loss, and cancer;
- (3) To study the economic incentives and mental health outcomes related to relational mentoring
